TS Ernesto: Update 1

0900 hours – August 29, 2006

Based on the latest projections from our weather services regarding TS Ernesto, the Port of Charleston will close its gates for operation at noon tomorrow (Wednesday, August 30). Vessel operations will stop by midnight Wednesday night. We anticipate being closed all day Thursday as the storm passes. We anticipate reopening Friday morning, weather permitting. The above schedule will be adjusted as needed and determined by weather developments. As new information becomes available, additional updates will be provided via e-mail and on the web at www.scspace.com. # # #
